| 8 | Aren't we learning anything from this?
For decades, the same causes have been leading to accidents: "loss of control in flight," followed by landing accidents, collisions with the ground, takeoff and off-field landing accidents. Are there any solutions? | 52 | Weather-Stress
Cross-country gliding also means being flexible and chasing the good weather. |
| 14 | When the north wind blows
It is almost always the southerly wind that allows for long distances in the thermal. Our author therefore set out to experience the northern thermal over Austria and explore flight routes. | 58 | An Airplane that didn't want to go to the museum
Designed over 70 years ago, the Kranich III still turns heads – and it flies. |
| 22 | Learning from the masters
World-class pilots Terry Delore, Robin Smit, and Norbert Alion Scarlat demonstrate how they identify opportunities, deal with uncertainty, and make the most of the conditions at hand. | 62 | Practice Safely, Interruption During a Winch Launch
You need to practice what to do if a rope breaks during a winch launch. We'll give you tips on how to do it safely. |
| 28 | Lots of News from the East
This time, our author is on a badge hunt in eastern Czechia, Hungary, and eastern Slovenia. | 68 | Be there in the cockpit when it counts
Mental training is "practicing in your head" with the goal of performing well when it counts. |
| 36 | Main lines
Updraft patterns are the highways of gliding. Those who make effective use of these lift lines are rewarded with high average speeds and long distances. | 82 | Crash during landing approach
Limited flying experience and the lack of a medical certificate led to a tragic accident. |

Jaroslav Potmesil and the story behind HPH. |
| 46 | When a year takes flight
The Year of the Sports Soldiers 2025 came to a close in Africa. A year marked by passion and community. | 90 | Double Relaunch at Segelflug.de
It's back up and running: the classifieds platform. |
| | | 92 | good airmanship
A spirit of helpfulness that deserves a gold medal is what our author experienced during his flight. |
